This year alone, over 60 million people dieted in the USA and the UK, and it s still on the increase. Over 86 will fail, because they felt as if they were starving themselves to death. Others stopped, because they felt they were getting nowhere. It s not your fault, because 99 of diet books only deal with calorie counting and strip far too many calories off the diet to begin with. They very rarely address the many gene, health, enzyme, or body types that need specific diets. Most end up feeling they can t go on. The other main reason so many fail is, because they never prepared themselves properly to begin with. Diets stress the body and that can lead to a whole lot of new problems for the dieter to tackle. Your body has its own way of coping with different situations, and will switch on, or off, different genes and enzymes to try and bring about equilibrium. It s so important to start your diet plan in the right manner if you are going to have any success with losing any body fat. It s important to form new habits and throw away the old, but that s easier said, than...
