Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Application of Seth M. Whitten, of Indiana, for the Office of Sergeant-at-Arms, of the United States Senate: With Endorsements, Official and Private Letters and Papers Which Briefly Show His Civil and Military Services, the Origin, Character and Degree of His Physical Disabilities, and an Argument Showing the Political Preferment for Office of Rebels Over Union It is sometimes said that no man can have any claims to office. This is to say, Republic are ungrateful. It is not true. He who has devoted his life to the public service, and has rendered more and More Valuable public service than any other, and retains in full vigor of body and mind - mens sand in corpore sano - all the great qualities to make himself as useful, if not more so. as any other can as yet. be, has claims of the highest order to public favor. He who has been thus faithful over many things should be made ruler over a great nation. The above quotation was clipped from the Brief Sketch of the Life and Public Services of John Sherman. It is a book of 80 pages, was most ably edited by his friend Judge William Lawrence, and is an attempt to show that the claims of Mr Sherman for the nomination at Chicago are superior to those of all other candidates. If the following pages of this phamplet do not prove that my claims for the office of Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate are far superior to those of Mr. William P. Canaday, and if they do not determine the matter favorably to me, it is because facts clearly established do not have any...
