

A Thousand Suns

By Dominique Lapierre

Hind Pocket Books, New Delhi, India. Softcover. Book Condition: New. Among the premier journalists of our time, Dominique Lapierre has traveled to the four corners of the globe, witnessed word-shaking events, and met extraordinary people from all walks of life. Now this remarkable man shares this adventure and encounters in a book that aptly reflects a favorite proverb from India: that beyond the clouds, there are always. Starting with his fledgling days as a reporter for Paris Match, Lapierre candidly traces his growth from detached journalist to concerned participant in the great human dramas he was privileged to behold. Vividly and insightfully, he recaptures his personal involvements with many different kinds of heroes, such as: Raphael Matta chief warden of the ivory Coasts Bouna Game Reserve, who gave his life in his valiant fight to save the elephants of Africa from extinction. El Cordobas, the legendary Andalusian bullfighter whose passion and daring catapulted him from penniless obscurity to fame and fortune and who embodied the hopes of Spain to escape from the chains of tyranny and join a modern Europe And the anonymous inhabitants of a Calcutta slum, whose struggles in the face of overwhelming poverty will reaffirm your faith in...
