Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Herbert Beerbohm Tree: Some Memories of Him and of His Art Herbert Draper Beerbohm, better know as Herbert Tree, was born in London, December 17th, 1853. He was the second son of Julius Ewald Beerbohm and Constantia Draper. (His father, who had been born at Memel, in 1811, was of German and Dutch and Lithuanian extraction, had settled in England when he was twenty-three, and had become a naturalized British subject some years before his marriage.) He was educated first at a school at Frant, in Kent, and afterwards, with his two brothers, at Schnepfenthal College, Thuringia, where his father had been educated. At the age of seventeen or eighteen he went into the City as a clerk in the office of his father, who was a grain merchant. Soon afterwards he began to be well known as an amateur actor; and in 1878 he went upon the stage professionally, as Herbert Beerbohm Tree, playing many parts in London and the provinces. Among his chief successes in the early eighties were his impersonations of the...
